ABOUT THE NCRO

Chrysler non-union retirees and workers had no real means to communicate with Chrysler on retiree benefit issues. There was no way for non-union retirees to communicate with each other or to speak as one voice with the company. Retirees have continued to support the company and have trusted management. We relied on the company to provide the benefits we all earned while we were active employees. Unfortunately, times have changed, as has the company's commitment to maintain retiree benefits. After the termination of health and life insurance benefits, several retirees joined together to organize a non-union retiree organization to present a united front to the company. The NCRO was formed in May 2008 with the goals to preserve retiree benefits, improve communication, and foster fellowship among retirees.

JAY KUHNIE

NCRO PRESIDENT

STATEMENT FROM JAY

“Since its inception in 2008, the National Chrysler Retirement Organization’s (NCRO) Board of Directors and many volunteers have worked diligently on behalf of all Chrysler salaried retirees to protect pensions and benefits and to provide a liaison with the Company to assist retirees with issues they may face in retirement. Our work involves dealing with Stellantis/FCA on internal matters and we partner with the National Retiree Legislative Network (NRLN) on more global issues.

We greatly appreciate the support of our many members over the years and we will continue to actively work on behalf of retirees.”
