We trust her with all this insurance stuff !!

Laura came into my life when my mom stopped paying her insurance. She was cancelled and insurance companies were all denying her new coverage. She found a way around the rejections. Shortly after that was my turn to get it first time insurance and she educated me and then did all the paperwork. Now a year later, she does it all again! My wife will be next!

I look forward to her follow up calls to see how I am doing and if my needs have changed. Bottom line is I trust her to give me the best information so I can make an informed decision.

Get the help you need for the coverage you want.

Whether you're new to Medicare, evaluating current coverage, or trying to navigate a uniquely complicated situation, I can help.

Medicare is personal. The plan your spouse, friend, or neighbor loves may not meet your needs at all. You need to evaluate your options based on your individual needs & circumstances, that's where I come in.

My job is to cut through the confusion, accurately explain your options, & help you understand exactly what needs to happen next.
